Once all selections are made, and you click on "Save & Continue," a pop-up window will appear to confirm your selections.

Step 2: Proposed Text

The screenshot shows a web form for 'Proposed Text'. At the top, under 'Instructions:', there are three bullet points: 'For images, copy and paste graphic into the editor box or substantiation box.', 'To show "delete text" highlight text and press delete button on keyboard. Text will automatically show strikethrough and a red highlight.', and 'To show "new text" simply type or paste new text. Text will automatically show as green highlight.' Below this is a rich text editor with a menu (Edit, Insert, Format, Table) and a toolbar. The text in the editor includes '101.0 General.', '101.1 Title. This document shall be known as the "Uniform Mechanical Code," ~~may be cited as such~~, and will be referred to herein as "this code."', and '101.2 Scope. The provisions of this code shall apply to the erection, installation, alteration, repair, relocation, replacement, addition to, use, or maintenance of mechanical systems within this jurisdiction. Inserted new text'. A status bar at the bottom of the editor shows '59 words' and the 'tiny' logo. Below the editor is a 'Substantiation/Resolution' section with another rich text editor.

Instructions for inserting revisions are displayed at the top of the form.

Revisions to text will be shown as tracked changes.

A substantiation, technical in nature, is required to move to Step 3.

Step 3: Supporting Information

Indicate if standards are referenced in the comment.

Are you referencing standards in your proposal?
 Yes No

Please note that if a standard(s) is referenced in your proposal you must submit such standard(s) in order for your proposal to be processed. If the standard(s) is not received by the closing date, your proposal is considered incomplete and will not be processed.

Upload or drag copies of standards into the drop box.

Step 4: Terms & Conditions

In order to submit a comment, you must agree to the Copyright terms & conditions.

Copyright Assignment (This proposal is original material and is considered to be the submitter's own idea based on, or as a result of, research and experience, and is not copied from another source).
I hereby irrevocably grant and assign to IAPMO all and full rights in copyright, in this proposal. I understand and intend that I acquire no rights, including rights as a joint author, in any publication of IAPMO in which this proposal in this or another similar or analogous form is used.
I hereby warrant that I am the author of this proposal and that I have full power and authority to enter into this copyright assignment.

By checking this box I affirm that I am and agree to be legally bound by the above Copyright Assignment and the terms and conditions contained therein. I understand and intend that, by checking this box, I am creating an electronic signature that will, upon my submission of this form, have the same legal force and effect as a handwritten signature.

Note: If you are not the author of this proposal (this text is copied from another source) please do not submit. The author of the proposal must give copyright assignment.

Patent Policy. IAPMO's patent policy is to adhere fully to the ANSI patent policy. Every proponent of a proposed code change should familiarize him or herself with the ANSI patent policy which is available in its entirety at www.ansi.org/essentialrequirements. Upon receipt of a notice of an essential patent claim, IAPMO will coordinate with the claimant to ensure collection of the assurance(s) required by IAPMO's adherence to the ANSI patent policy before the proposal that includes an essential patent claim is introduced into the code development process.

Note: In order to proceed with this submission, you must check the box above.
